PREFACE.

The coins enumerated and described in the following pages are well worth the attention of American numismatists. The English series contains many very rare coins, mostly in very fine condition, while the American section, the property of another gentleman, is also replete with gems, some, at least, that could not be duplicated. Condition has been carefully noted, but as this is simply a matter of opinion, we have made arrangements to allow the most careful examination before the sale. The entire collection will be on exhibition at our office, 40 John street, from now up to the date of the sale, when they will be transferred to the auction room for inspection up to the commencement of the sale, the terms of which will be found below. The auction room is up one flight of stairs, and visitors are assured of respectful attention, free from interruptions incident to most public auction rooms.

TERMS OF SALE.

1. The highest bidder to be the purchaser, and if any dispute arises between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the claimed bids were made in an audible voice.
2. No bids of less than five cents will be received.
3. The goods are sold for cash and must be paid for and taken away the day after the sale.
4. Purchasers unknown to the auctioneer will be required to give name and address to the bookkeeper and make a deposit of twenty-five per cent. of the amount of purchases.
5. The coins are sold at so much for each one in the lot.
6. Every coin sold is warranted genuine and is carefully catalogued according to condition by known experts, but accuracy cannot be guaranteed. Therefore, as a check on the cataloguer—
7. The entire sale will be on exhibition on the day of the sale, from 9 A.M. to 2 P.M., and every coin can be carefully examined.
8. Collectors residing out of town can, for a small commission, employ experts to examine the various lots and bid for them. The cataloguer or auctioneer make no charge for buying and assume no liability.
9. All claims in controversion of this warrant must be made within five days of the sale.
